

CHRONICLE

To the memory of Robert Lufbery, our classmate and friend, we affectionately dedicate this year book.

School Song

Tune—Cornell Song

Lyman Hall, our well-loved high school,
Love we pledge to thee,
May we e'er be true and loyal
In the days to be.

Chorus

Lyman Hall, our hearts re-echo
To thy ringing call.
May we love thee, honor, cherish,
Hail, dear Lyman Hall.

Chorus

From your portals we may wander
Far o'er land and sea;
Yet our happiest, fondest mem'ries
E'er drift back to thee.

Chorus

Through the years our songs shall echo.
Shall our voices ring.
Thine our highest praise and glory
E'er to thee we sing.

Chorus

Class History

In 1947, a motley array of widely talented individuals boldly invaded the hallowed corridors of Lyman Hall. According to the statistics, acquired through extensive research and also through much trial and error, the classification of our clan was as follows: three-nineteenths, procrastinators; one nineteenth, desk carvers; two-nineteenths, bluffers; one-nineteenth, practical jokers; three-nineteenths, puppy-lovers; two-nineteenths, wheels; two-nineteenths, gum chewers; five-nineteenths, loafers. The remainder endeavored to acquire an education.

As freshmen, we found ourselves in the precarious predicaments that all underclassmen encounter. These uncertainties were somewhat quelled by our Halloween Party, which, under the guidance of Miss Adams and Miss Quint, was a resounding success. Audrey Hazard, Ruth Loring, and Marge Van Leuvan as "sleepytime gals" and Connie Morris as a charming demoiselle were among those adding to the gaiety of this affair.

Once the basketball season got under way, we became aware of the school spirit that prevails at Lyman Hall. Our loud and enthusiastic rooting completely drowned out the sophisticated cheers of the more dignified members of the student body. We like to feel that it was our vociferous cheering that spurred the team on to winning the class M championship. This victory was one of the high lights of our freshman year.

After an eventful summer vacation, which seemed to pass much too quickly, we diligently brushed the cobwebs from our brains and set to work, this time more confidently than before.

Being the elite of the afternoon session, we took upon ourselves such cumbersome responsibilities as directing the bewildered freshmen to room 23 by way of the rear elevator.

The outstanding social event for us that year was the Sophomore Dance. It was this gala affair which ushered in many new romances.

The rest of the year passed quickly; and before we realized it, we were putting our books in moth balls, anticipating the leisure hours of the summer, absolutely free from such trivial things as homework.

The new problem which we had to contend with in our junior year was not the threat of atomic warfare nor the validity of Einstein's theory, but how to beat that early morning tardy bell and still have our hair combed and our shoelaces tied.

Under the leadership of Neuf Catapano, official big wheel, Sheila Worrall, official little wheel, Ruth Loring, diligent "doodler", and Tony Riccitelli, cabbage grabber, we rose to astounding heights.

* Football!! After ten years, football again came into the spotlight at Lyman Hall. Coach Fred Schipke had his green crew of strongbacks out every afternoon in order to get them in shape for the initial game of the season. Although our team came out on the losing side of the battle with Seymour, it gained much valuable experience and went on to compile a two-two-one record — not bad for a first year team!

On February 11, the Lyman Hall High School band had its first chance to show off the new uniforms acquired through the generosity of the Exchange Club. Ever since then we have boasted the best-dressed high-school band south of the North Pole.

We won the Housatonic championship, as the basketball team piled up an enviable eleven-one league record. Our own classmates, Neuf Catapano and Yam Carretta, contributed their share toward this victory.

With Miss Dunlap as director and Charlotte Walford occupying the position of general chairman, we produced a Broadway hit, which ran all of two nights before capacity houses. The cavorting of Snooks Reynolds in a moth-eaten lion's costume had the audience in stitches. Everyone agreed that Quiet Summer was one of the most hilarious plays ever enacted on the Lyman Hall stage.

It was at the Junior "Prom" that we danced under the multi-colored balloons and laughing clowns' faces of a Mardi gras theme. Nat Cavallo and Audrey Hazard, co-chairmen of decorations, kept the committee busy pasting paper masks and hats. Chairman Jerry Combs and his committee members worked equally hard planning the dance, but their labors were well rewarded by the success of the event.

In June, we unwillingly discarded our plane geometry contracts and Cicero translations for the monotonous drudgery of summer vacationing.

In September, we again found ourselves treading the well-worn stairs of Lyman Hall, not at all confused nor bewildered. After all, weren't we seniors? We were sure that everyone was impressed with our superiority.

The departure of three members of the class with Company K was a disappointment to all of us. John Carretta, captain of the basketball team, Walter Gomez, and Robert Kumnick were stationed in Virginia at the start of the school year.

After electing Jim DuBois, president; Tony Riccitelli, vice-president; Ruth Loring, secretary; and Eddie Nagy, treasurer; we settled down to some really serious school work. With inexhaustable eagerness, we poured over the endless pages of Word Wealth. Somehow enduring the myriads of nouns and adjectives, we eventually became expert etymologists, and were able to decode and somewhat understand Dick Wilde's unequaled use of the English language.

Along with making headlines in the Compass, Foxy Trowbridge's flashy sweaters and John "Dragalong" Schwartz's cowboy boots were the talk of the school.

Taking time out from the rigors of school work, we began making preparations for our Senior Dance, by electing Jerry Combs chairman. The perseverance and hard work of the various committees was climaxed by the huge success of this colorful affair. All the senior boys took their sweet-stuff to the "lollipop shop" to dance to the music of Eddie Wittstein's band. Amid the bouquets of lollipops and candy kisses, Sheila Worrall was crowned queen with Margie Bercier and Ruth Loring, her charming attendants.

With Charlotte Walford again chairman and with the combined talents of Joyce Scott, Audrey Hazard, Dick Brown, and Conrad Hubert, we produced another smash-hit, Our Hearts Were Young and Gay.

In February, we were saddened by the death of our beloved classmate, Robert Lufbery. Bob, a quiet boy, was well liked by the entire student body. His amiable smile and modest courtesy won the friendship of everyone he met. We paid our last respects by forming an honor guard at his funeral. The extent of our sorrow can not be expressed in words; only silent tears convey the thoughts that lie deep in our hearts.

Now we are about to leave Lyman Hall and the events and pleasures connected with it. The joys of high-school life will soon be in the past, but, nevertheless, they will not be forgotten. We shall always keep a warm spot in our hearts for Lyman Hall and the things that it stands for.

Realizing all this, we shall go forth. We are prepared to set out into the cold world, for we know that "We build the ladder by which we rise".

Class Will

We, the senior members of the Lyman Hall High School, declaring ourselves to be in a sound state of mind and body as we ever shall be, do hereby make, publish, and declare the following to be our last will and testament, hoping that the good we have done may live on after us and that our follies may be buried and forgotten.

We, Walter Gomez, Robert Kumnick, and John Carretta, take with us the memory of the friends we have in our class to cheer us in the days ahead.

We, the girls of Mr. Hancock's chemistry classes, leave our unusual ability to upset the chemistry "lab" to the future women chemists of the class of '52.

We, Theresa Tencza, Marge Clark, and Lois Mitchell, leave the remainder of our battle with the bottle of peroxide to any underclassman who is daring enough to undertake the task.

We who took the college boards are glad to leave the pleasure of studying for them to the unfortunate ones who will take them next year.

We, Audrey Hazard and Joyce Scott, sadly leave the excitement and fun we had on opening night to the Sarah Bernhardts of next year's cast.

I, Charles Trowbridge, will my exquisite wardrobe and superior judgment of sharp clothing to a prospering rag-a-muffin who has a well-padded wallet with which to pay my abandoned charge accounts.

We, Tom Yasensky and Hale Caswell, leave our powerful football shoulders and one nose guard to Dick Rizzo so that he may lead Lyman Hall's squad to victory and yet not disappoint the female fans by scarring his handsome features.

I, Margie Van Leuvan, will my coquettish smile to Brenda Fitzgerald, who seems to be doing all right with her own.

I, "Jughead" Slater, leave my ability to score long touchdowns to Buddy Warner.

We, Harriet Rubin and Dotty Sebastian, will our shining locks to any girl who has a stiff hair brush and perseverance to match.

I, Charlotte Walford, do hereby bequeath my vocal successes to Barbara Morin that she may please as many audiences with her rich tones as I have.

I, Karen Malmquist, will my desk in the art room, complete with leaky ink bottle, to any unfortunate "frosh" with a passion for making messes.

We, Barbara King and Lorraine Koczak, leave our towering height to Iris Freeman and Marianne Lacy, although this is a supreme sacrifice for both of us.

I, Johnny Yaskot, leave my wit and good humor to the kids who never enjoy life.

We, Connie Morris and Marcia Bass, will our never-ending flow of laughter and friendliness to any junior girl who likes people.

I, "Neuf" Catapano, leave my sharp eye in basketball to my brother "Bucky" so that he may score over twenty-two points per game as I have.

We, Marie DeSapio and Joan Bonk, bequeath our artistic skills to Stephen Cerri and Bobbie Poggio that they too may produce masterpieces like ours.

I, Jimmy DuBois, leave my little book entitled Parliamentary Procedure to Bruno Beer to help him if he gets stuck.

I, Queen Sheila and my attendants, Margie Bercier and Ruthie Loring, leave our regal beauty and winning manner to our worthy successors in the class of '52.

To anyone who crosses wires with the government, I, Tony Pilla, offer my political pull. (Senator Pilla can be contacted through his secretary at the Capitol Building in Washington, D. C.)

We, the senior girls of the homemaking department, leave our ability to tantalize the students of the chemistry classes with delicious odors to the future homemakers.

I, Dick Wilde, will a ten-pound dictionary to the members of the faculty so that within the course of a few years they can translate all the polysyllabic words spoken in my high-school days.

We, the loquacious girls of French III, leave our wagging tongues to the students of next year but hope that Mr. Torrey will not expel them for their use of such magnificent talent.

I, Bobby Hueffman, will one pair of weather beaten stilts to Bobby Hall so that he too can feel on top of the world.

We, the senior cheer leaders: Natalie Cavallo, Anita Malentacchi, Joan Bonyai, Marjorie Bercier, and Shirley Clark, leave our limber muscles and strong lungs to the cute and agile jayvee cheer leaders.

I, Ann Rosadini, bequeath my poise and luscious looks to any underclass girl who can handle them as well.

We, the active "Gum Chewers" of the class of '51 leave our trademark to annoy the students for years to follow.

I, Bill Hunter, will my heart-capturing smile and good will toward the ladies to Bobbie Williams and Charlie Jennings, who will use these to their best advantage, we are sure.

I, "Muscles" Melillo, leave my expensive set of barbells to Johnny Zecca so he may develop a handsome physique like mine.

We, the class of '51, do hereby set forth our last will and testimony as "the best years of our lives" draw rapidly to a close.

The Student Council, the student governing body composed of representatives from each class, has completed another successful year.

In September at an impressive farewell program, the Council presented gifts to four members of the Senior Class who were called to active service when Company K of the Connecticut National Guard was federalized.

Two representatives and an adviser attended the 1950 Conference of the New England Student Government Association at the Hotchkiss Preparatory School. At a later meeting in Dover, New Hampshire, Gordon Gilman was chosen to represent the New England Association at the National Association Convention to be held at Wellesley College in June.

During the basketball season the group sponsored the sale of candy and soda at the home games held in the State Armory.

During the year six auditorium programs were presented to the student body. The Council also sponsored three sport dances and a "hobo-sock hop".

In April the Student Council was host to the members of the Housatonic Valley League of Student Councils at a general assembly held at the Moses Y. Beach School. Current problems were discussed in the afternoon, followed by a dinner and a dance in the evening. Representatives also attended a general assembly at Seymour High School and executive board meetings at East Haven, Shelton, and Derby.

Under the leadership of the Student Council, the student body has chosen a standard school crest, which will appear on future class rings. In connection with this project, several assemblies were held to discuss the pros and cons of standardization, and a school-wide contest was conducted for the best crest design.

| Drum Majors         | . | . | . | . | . | . | . | JEROME COMBS, HARRY WHIPPLE    |

The eighty-piece band, meeting every Monday, Wednesday, and Friday, has had an exceptionally busy year. It played at the home football games in the fall. Led by our varsity major-ettes, the band marched in the Halloween and Memorial Day parades. Other events in the band's schedule were two music assemblies, the mid-winter and spring concerts, the "March-of-Dimes" show, a concert in Old Saybrook, the state festival in Stratford, a combined band concert with the Norfolk band, and finally in June the annual "Concert in the Park" at Doolittle Park.

VARSITY TWIRLERS

THE VARSITY TWIRLERS

GLORIA GERMAIN, Captain

MARY PALMERO
JOYCE LENART
CAROL VALENTINE

BETTE VANCKY

MAY FROST
DOLORES ESCOTO
MARION HOPE

The varsity twirlers, in spite of limited space, spent at least one day a week on practice and devoted much of their outside time to the corps. They accompanied the band to the football games, the Halloween parade, the Memorial Day parade, the mid-winter and spring concerts, and the state festival.

THE JUNIOR VARSITY TWIRLERS

MARY CWIRKA
PATRICIA CSENGE
MARILYN CARRINGTON
ELEANOR GELLO
JANICE LENART

JEAN MUSZYNSKI
NORMA RODRIGUES
MARY STEINKE
BETTY WIEDEN
PHYLLIS WOLIVER

Once a week the junior varsity twirlers practiced with the varsity corps. They accompanied the band in the Halloween and Memorial Day parades.

GLORIA CLARK

PHYLLIS KOWALSKI

SHIRLEY GARGALY

During the football and basketball seasons the varsity cheer leaders, a well co-ordinated, "peppy" group, contributed much to the spirit of both the team and the students. Practice was held at least three times a week, and all the games were attended. In a state-wide cheer leading contest, the squad made an excellent showing in winning second prize, a fine precedent established for next year's group.

THE JUNIOR VARSITY CHEER LEADERS

JANET FOUCAULT

MAUREEN FRITZ

CHERIE IRWIN

DOROTHY LENTZ

The formation of a new group of cheer leaders to root at the jayvee games has proved very successful. Overcoming the difficulties of lack of time and space for practicing, during the basketball season they did much to promote "pep" and general interest in the afternoon session.

THE JUNIOR CLASS PLAY

The Junior Class Play

The Class of 1951 made its debut on the stage when it presented the hilarious comedy, Quiet Summer, on November 18 and 19, 1949, under the direction of Miss Ruth E. Dunlap.

The members of the cast included Richard Wilde in the leading role of the uncle; Joyce Scott, his seventeen-year-old niece, Pamela; Patrick Reynolds, Sonny, the mischief-making nephew; Audrey Hazard, the excitable maid; Marjorie Van Leuvan, the domineering mother of Pamela and Sonny; Howard Stearns, the henpecked husband; Sophie Damutz, Sonny's girl friend; Marjorie Bercier and Jean Dorsey, young girls and also friends of Sonny; Janet Avidano, the uncle's capable secretary; John Yaskot, the uncle's rival for the secretary's affection; Dorothy Sebastian, the rich and beautiful debutante; and William Melillo, her loud-voiced father. William Hunter played the part of Bill, Pamela's and Harriet's friend; and Edward Nagy acted the part of Tubby Pitts, Bill's friend. Karin Malmquist was the newspaper photographer; Harriet Rubin, the head of a girls' camp; and August Iacobellis acted the part of a delivery man.

Charlotte Walford, the general chairman, who worked with the faculty advisers, was supported by numerous chairmen and their respective committees.

THE SENIOR CLASS PLAY

The Senior Class Play

The Class of 1951 made its second public appearance when it presented the popular play Our Hearts Were Young and Gay on November 17 and 18, 1950.

The members of the cast, under the direction of Miss Ruth E. Dunlap, presented the play with costumes of the 1920 period. The members of the cast were Audrey Hazard and Joyce Scott in the main roles of Emily Kimbrough and Cornelia Otis Skinner; Richard Brown, Leo; Conrad Hubert, Dick; Lois Mitchell and Paul Till, Mr. and Mrs. Otis Skinner; Gloria Germain and Ann Sockol, the two English girls; Robert Poggio, the ship's purser; William Hunter, the admiral; John Jasper, the steward; Theresa Boda, the stewardess; Edward Nagy, the inspector; John Yaskot, the window cleaner; Harriet Rubin, the French landlady, and Joan Bonk, her pretty daughter, Therese; and Donald Asman, Monsieur De LeCroix.

The prompters were Karin Malmquist, Marjorie Van Leuvan, and Eleanor Watrous.

The general chairman was Charlotte Walford.

FOOTBALL

Co-captains . . . . . HALE CASWELL, THOMAS YASENSKY
Managers . . . . . JOSEPH MEZEI, RICHARD SCHUMACHER

The football team ended its second consecutive year of football in eleven years with a record of one win, four losses, and one tie. This year under the tutelage of Coaches Schipke and Mahan, the team learned plays not only from the T but also from the single wing. The scores were as follows: Seymour 7, L.H.H.S. 6; East Haven 33, L.H.H.S. 13; Branford 27, L.H.H.S. 0; St. Mary's 0, L.H.H.S. 0; Berlin 6, L.H.H.S. 14; and Winsted 6, L.H.H.S. 0. Winsted was a new addition to the roster this year.

| Captain         | JOHN CARRETTA                                   |
| Acting Captains | MATTHEW CATAPANO, ROBERT MORAN, THOMAS YASENSKY |
| Manager         | CHARLES TROWBRIDGE                              |

The 1950-51 basketball team completed a very successful season with a total of thirteen victories against seven defeats. The Lyman Hall hoopsters amassed a sum of 1122 points, while holding their opponents to 1076.

The individual scoring honors were won by Matthew "Neuf" Catapano, a senior, with 439 points, followed by Chester Robakiewicz, a junior, with 156 points. "Neuf" surpassed all recent scoring records by tallying thirty-five points in one game. His average for the year was 22.1 points per game.

The Hallites qualified for the Class B Tournament in the Payne Whitney Gymnasium but were defeated by Woodrow Wilson, 58 to 50 in the opener.

For Your "Future Unlimited"

Each year since the establishment of a High School in Wallingford, graduates have found employment at the Wallace factory.

The growth of Wallace is in large part a direct result of the help and inspiration provided by graduates of the original Wallingford High School and of Lyman Hall.
